Join the Australia and New Zealand Lung Cancer Nurses Forum (ANZ-LCNF) today!

The ANZ-LCNF has been established by The Australian Lung Foundation to provide a forum for nurses working directly with people affected by lung cancer and/or Mesothelioma.

The ANZ-LCNF is a group of passionate nurses with a common focus of improving patient care, health care delivery and outcomes for patients, their families and carers. This network provides an opportunity for debate, education and knowledge transfer throughout the continuum of treatment. This setting will also encourage nurses who have extensive experience to mentor those nurses who are new to the area.

This new group has a steering committee of nurse representatives from around Australia and New Zealand and has been established to assist with tasks ahead. At this stage, the steering committee's focus is on membership recruitment and the launch of an interactive website.

If you are a nurse who works with lung cancer and/or mesothelioma patients, we encourage you to become a member of this professional nursing group by completing the membership form on the back of this flyer and faxing it back to The Australian Lung Foundation on 07 3852 5487 or email glenda@lungfoundation.com.au.

Eligibility

Free membership to this group is extended to enrolled and registered nurses who care for lung cancer patients and families in any clinical setting. For example:

- Lung Cancer Nurse/Coordinators
- Nurse Educators
- Respiratory Nurses
- Research Nurses
- Oncology Nurses
- Practice/Community Nurses
- Palliative Care Nurses
- Thoracic/Surgical Nurses

ANZ-LCNF objectives

The objectives of this special interest group are to:

- Provide a platform where nurses can work together, collaborate and network
- Provide access to specialised education in the area of Lung Cancer and Mesothelioma, through attending conferences and completing accredited courses
- Bring together many organisations and many nursing roles
- Formalise and enhance nurse involvement and visibility in future events/conferences

Professional Development

ANZ-LCNF aims to deliver professional development workshops in the area of lung cancer and Mesothelioma on an annual basis. ANZ-LCNF workshops will be held in conjunction with other conferences including the Australian Lung Cancer Conference and CNSA Winter Congress.
