

2012 Cancer Care Coordination Conference

Towards New Horizons

Clinical Oncological
Society of Australia

6th & 7th March, 2012

Novotel, St Kilda,
Melbourne, Victoria

Please join us to hear from leaders in cancer care coordination about new directions.

The Conference will inform on best practice in areas that increasingly impact on coordinated care, including sustainability of Coordinator roles into the future, the unique needs of the elderly patient and Australian Aboriginal peoples, survivorship issues, and care coordination of adolescents and young adults. Workshops will cover three key areas: caring for ourselves, research and improving practice. This offers delegates an opportunity to attend an area of interest.

Guided by the expertise of leaders in these fields, attendees will learn from one another about improving and sustaining programs and the development of best practice approaches, including 'tools of practice' in cancer care coordination with a focus, as always, on the patient and their carers.

Attendees will also receive an update of the progress that is being made with the COSA Cancer Care Coordinator Interest Group and how to maximise the benefits through participation.
